

First, and most often misunderstood. I do not send out the emails to members about music for rehearsals (or any other entries in any forum). It is an automatic process that the website performs whenever a new topic is posted, anyone subscribed to a forum gets notified.

Members can subscribe to New Topics (get notified each time a new Topic is posted).

Main Forum

 Add topic

General topics of interest and amusement to choir members.

If the topic is deemed to be part of another forum it will get moved.

 Subscribe for new topics

 RSS

This subscription will notify members of any new topics posted - it WILL NOT notify members of any comments posted to those topics.

Members can subscribe to new replies (each time a Topic gets a comment).

Rehearsal Music - Thursday, Feb 12th

 Subscribe for new replies

Subscribing to new replies WILL NOT notify members when a new topic is posted.

All member have access to the Forums, currently there are 3 categories with forums under each one:

General Discussions

Main Forum (very few members have subscribed for New Topics)

Rehearsal Music

This week's music (every member gets subscribed to this forum for New Topics)

Fund Raising

Anniversary Concert fund-raising (dormant and not updated for 2 years)

If there is a requirement for more forums these can be added as necessary.

Any member of the choir can post new topics in any of the forums or comment on any of the topics posted.

There is a warning about making sure you post in the correct forum.

Please check you are adding your new topic to correct Forum!

There is an "Add Topic" button to the right of each forum title.
